

HOA Violation Quiz

A.) 1 Point B.) 2 Points C.) 3 Points

What is the average number of violations that my community accrued per month?

- A. 1-50
- B. 51-100
- C. 101-150+

Does your community have set bylaws and a CC&R set in place for all members to obtain and view for their personal use?

- A. Yes
- B. 'm not sure
- C. No

How often does your community communicate HOA violations and policies?

- A. Every month or bi-monthly
- B. Once a year
- C. Wherever a severe violation occurs

Would you consider your HOA community to be 100% on board with their current violation process?

- A. Yes, completely satisfied
- B. Not really, it changes as our board members change
- C. No, we constantly struggle with this process

Would your management company be open to learning more about improving their HOA violation process by implementing new technologies such as third-party applications?

- A. We already have a website and application for all members to use
- B. Not sure; some seem interested but would be open to learning more about it
- C. No, our community is pretty set in its ways of doing things

---

15 points or higher: Your community is on track and seems open to the new enhancements that it may be experiencing. Great work!

10-14 points: Your community may be on the fence or struggle from time to time when it comes to change. Consider reaching out to an advisory board member on specific areas of improvement that your community may work with. List out the pros/cons of what changes these problems bring to the community. Consider a third-party application or a website to help manage these issues.

9 points or lower: Your community should seek additional guidance with maintaining a more efficient HOA violation process. Consider reaching out to an advisory board member or software company on ways that you can better improve your community.